COPYRIGHT POLICY

Due to variability in the copyright permission process, UniPrint allows up to three weeks for permissions to be granted prior to production. At the end of this period, UniPrint may estimate the costs for pending items internally and release it for production or seek input from the instructor. An instructor may choose to hold the packet entirely, release approved portions for production and hold pending items, or omit the pending items. Be assured that UniPrint will contact you regarding any denied or expensive readings at any time. Also, they will confirm approval of a high total copyright cost before releasing the packet.
